It's Cooling Off But It's Staying Dry

No relief from Northern Alberta's dry spell has been promised yet by the weatherman. Temperatures, however, will be five to 10 degrees lower today and skies will remain cloudy most of the day.

Weather synopses and official forecasts issued at 10 a.m. today by the Dominion public weather office at Edmonton, valid until midnight Thursday are:

SYNOPSIS

The cool air mass over the prairies is still bringing showers to Southern Alberta. Since noon Tuesday 1.4 inches of rain fell at Lethbridge, but elsewhere no heavy rain has been reported.

A few showers will develop today over Southern Alberta and Saskatchewan but dry weather will persist in the northern sections. Skies are expected to clear slowly tonight.

Edmonton-Red Deer Regions: Overcast, becoming cloudy this afternoon, clearing shortly after midnight; clear Thursday morning, becoming cloudy Thursday afternoon; light winds; little change in temperature; low tonight and high tomorrow at Edmonton 46 and 68, Red Deer 46 and 68.

Peace River Region: Clear, becoming cloudy this afternoon, clearing tonight; variable cloudiness tomorrow; light winds; warmer; low tonight at Grande Prairie 48, high tomorrow 79.

Coronation and Lloydminster Regions: Cloudy, becoming clear this evening; clear Thursday morning, becoming cloudy Thursday afternoon; light winds; a little warmer; low tonight and high tomorrow at Coronation 46 and 68, Vermilion 41 and 68.

Agriculture Minister James G. Gardiner, speaking in support of Saskatchewan Liberal candidate J. J. Collins, predicted the CCF government of the province will not remove the two per cent education tax until it could "reach into your wheat bins, cattle stalls and your pig pens" to take the money it needed to run the government. A democratic government, he said, has to get the approval of the people before, not after, it collects money.

JAMES G. GARDINER
... The government must go.

In London, England, Mrs. George Brand, mother-in-law of Nina Makushina, Russian bride who said she is divorcing her British husband because of her "dreadful life in England," explained that the girl was from a family of wealth, had everything done for her by servants, and always had all she desired in money, clothes, and luxuries.

The girl's father, a Russian, had written a letter, "lies in part," another Russian bride in England, Mrs. Nora Murray, said, "I stay here. I'm wonderfully happy." Things she likes in England, she said, are the civil administration, fair rationing, the spirit of the women, good clothes and "window shopping." Her greatest complaint: in Russia, her son would be able to attend the best schools and universities free.

The British Air Ministry announced that a Czechoslovakian "Dakota" transport landed at Manston airbase with 21 refugees aboard. Passengers were mainly men of military age with connections in England. One, said Air Ministry officials, "had to leave the country."

In Ottawa, a prediction was made that some action on prices "might be taken after parliament rises" following the presentation of the report of the committee on prices, which meets today to consider the questions of its report to the government. The meeting was closed to the public.

The Saskatchewan CCF government will appeal to the Privy Council in England on two rulings by provincial courts. The government wants: (1) Mortgage holders to share crop-failure risks with the farmer, and (2) the right of labor unions to organize without employer interference, to outlaw company unions and to provide penalties for unfair labor practices. Both points have been challenged by Canadian courts.

Bulletin Story Attacked By MP

OTTAWA, June 16.—(CP)—J. M. Dechene (L-Quebec) said in the Commons today that a special Ottawa dispatch in The Edmonton Bulletin last Feb. 26 was "an entire fabrication."

"Unless it is corrected, the man who wrote the article should be called to the bar of the House. The paper which published the article should retract it with the same prominence as it published it."

Mr. Dechene said the article was on the front page of The Bulletin under the heading, "For Birds Silences MP in Sabotage Plot."

"That refers to me," he said. "Underneath the headlines the article appears. I have never been afraid of anybody, neither Reds, this man, nor the group he represents. This article is an entire fabrication. I have only one word to describe it and what it did to me. The man who wrote this is a liar."

(The news story which Mr. Dechene takes exception to quoted his remarks in the House of Commons which are to be found on Page 1624 of Hansard for February 25.)

Canada Home Builders' Association in Calgary Tuesday.

At present down payments on such homes runs between $1,000 and $2,000, out of reach of many low-income families.

If Home Builders' Association plans materialize, all down payments on new homes will be reduced to about $700.

Douglas stated that the homes will be 4-room and 6-room bungalows, one and one-half stories.

Cost of the houses will be between $6,500 and $8,000.

"At present there are no new homes for sale in Edmonton," said Douglas.

Custody of 13-year-old, $1,000-a-week boy evangelist "Little David" Walker, has been demanded by his parents because they don't believe he is getting a proper education. They said they lost control of their son after signing a paper when a fellow-evangelist promised to put "Little David in the big time."

The boy's father, Indianapolis attorney James M. Dawson, accused the parents of neglect.

In Washington, D.C., Mrs. Maggie McGuffin rented a room from Mrs. Beattie White two years ago, and finally got around to talking to her. They discovered, in the order named that: 1) they both came from Winston-Salem, North Carolina; 2) their maiden names were the same, Adams; and 3) they are sisters. They hadn't seen one another since 1924.

U.S. Battle Looms Over Trade Act

Secretary of State Marshall, Senator Vandenberg Near Split

By John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(AP)—State Secretary George Marshall and Senator Arthur Vandenberg (Rep-Mich.)—the chief promoters of bi-partisan co-operation on recent foreign policy—are closer to a major split right now than they ever have been.

The issue is the tariff-cutting reciprocal trade act.

As a result state department officials may swallow their objections to the new-billed revival bill and recommend that President Truman accept it rather than veto it.

If Marshall determines on that course, he probably will have to overrule Will Clayton, his former under-secretary and now special adviser.

Clayton, who fought the trade act battle in Congress, has been described as feeling that the bill which went to Truman yesterday is wholly inadequate to continue a workable tariff reduction program.

Vandenberg, on the other hand, helped write the compromise measure and argued in the senate that its limitations would not injure the tariff-cutting project.

The Michigan senator furthermore has some rather uncompromising things to say about the state department.

He called its attitude toward the revival bill "stubborn" and said he was "shocked" to learn that the department had refused to give senators certain foreign trade records.

REASON FOR ACTION
The reason the tariff issue came to a head in congress at this time is that the latest enacted 14-year-old law was due to expire June 12.

That law gave the Truman administration the power to slash import duties in return for similar concessions from other countries.

Truman and the state department urged the usual three-year extension.

Instead, the Republican-controlled house of representatives passed a one-year extension which would have (A) let the federal tariff commission suggest limits on proposed tariff cuts and (B) given congress veto power over any cuts which exceeded those limits.

2 Planes Are Believed Safe
AJACCIO, Corsica, June 16.—(AP)—Two flying fortresses, believed to be part of a three-plane flight reported missing on a trip from the Azores to Palestine, landed here today for refueling and took off again.

French officials at Ajaccio could not say definitely whether the planes were the ones reported missing.

The planes, their nationality unidentified officially, were reported to have disappeared yesterday on a flight from the Azores to Corsica. A dispatch from Lisbon, Portugal, said all three were reported headed to Palestine with crews of Jews.

Santa Maria sources said it was believed two of the three planes might have continued safely on their trip. The report from the Santa Maria search plane told of life preservers seen floating near what appeared to be wreckage. There was no sign of human life.

BNA Act Not Easily Changed

OTTAWA, June 16.—(CP)—Justice Minister Islay let fly yesterday with a barrage of questions about the "implications" of giving Canadians a bill of rights by amending the constitution.

Setting the pace as chairman of the parliamentary committee on human rights and fundamental freedoms, he rattled off a series of rhetorical queries pointing up the off-beat warning that to change the British North America Act is no run-of-the-mill matter.

The committee, deciding it should not recommend a bill of rights by federal statute, agreed to seek the opinion of justice department experts about the alternative, a BNA act amendment.

This decision came after the reading of briefs by the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association and 16 Chinese organizations. The CDA urged enactment of a law guaranteeing freedom of the press, the Chinese groups appealed for fair play and equal treatment for Canada's 35,000 persons of Chinese descent.

At previous meetings the committee heard briefs by the committee for a Bill of Rights, the Civil Liberties Union of Toronto and the Canadian Jewish Congress.

Single Transferable Vote Debated in House

OTTAWA, June 16.—(CP)—The single transferable vote got a going-over in the commons yesterday but members couldn't agree whether it was an improvement over present voting methods.

This is the system where the voter has more than one choice of candidates in marking his ballot paper. Some authorities claim it guarantees against the election of a candidate with only a "minority" of the votes cast in his constituency.

HOUSE PASSES BILL
The discussion developed during study of a bill making extensive changes in the Dominion Elections Act.

Some members urged the adoption of the transferable vote for federal general elections, contending it would improve the voting system while others argued that it was too complicated that it would prove unworkable.

The bill, which finally was given third reading and now goes to the Senate, contained one important change—the extension of the Federal franchise to Canadians of Japanese origin. The present law denies them the vote in federal elections if they are barred from voting provincially. Now, no exception will be made.

Born in Bristol, Ont., Dr. Stewart came here in 1937. Survivors include his widow and one son, George, here; another son, Neil, Montreal, and three daughters—Mrs. Fred A. Emge and Mrs. Leslie O. Foster, both of Calgary, and Mrs. J. C. Cowans, Montreal.

$100 Robbery Is Said 'Hoax'

CALGARY, June 16.—(CP)—Police said last night the $100 "armed robbery" of Ye Olde English Fish and Chip Shop on Centre street here May 22 was a "hoax" and that the cafe cashier had been arrested and charged with conspiracy to commit theft.

Police said cashier Hilda Halliday had been arrested and charged in connection with the theft of $100 yesterday in connection with the holdup. Taken into custody on the same charge were Gordon R. Phillips and Ivan Schoonover, both of Calgary.

Phillips and Schoonover also are charged with robbery with violence in connection with the theft of $100 in cash and cheques from a messenger girl on the fourth street level crossing Monday. The messenger, Miss Kay Knights, employed by Safeways Ltd., was walking over the crossing carrying the money in a large folding wallet for deposit in a bank at the time of the robbery.

Arabs Against Making Jerusalem Open City

By Max Boyd

CAIRO, June 16.—(AP)—The Arabs today rejected a proposal of the United Nations mediator to declare Jerusalem an open city.

Fawzi Mukki Pasha, foreign minister of Trans-Jordan, told newspapermen that the Arab League replied to Count Folke Bernadotte that if Jerusalem was declared an open city, Arab troops would be asked to evacuate positions they conquered there last month. He said this would be in contradiction of the cease-fire terms.

INVITATION REJECTED
An Arab League source also reported the League's political committee rejected an invitation to sit at a conference table with the Jews in negotiations for a permanent Palestine peace.

The Arabs held the old city of Jerusalem, a mile-square block in the heart of the Shrine City, when the four-week truce became effective last Friday. The Jews held most of the bigger modern city. The Arabs have accused the Jews in the past of ruling out the possibility of an open city by violating the previous Jerusalem truce.

The Arabs now say the city's shrines, holy to three great religions, are safe under Arab protection and that the Arabs are granting free access to them. Many of the holiest shrines are within the old city walls.

Abdel Kanan Azam Pasha, secretary-general of the Arab League, repeated the Arab position that the Arab states will listen to no proposal for peace which is based upon a Jewish state or partition. Bernadotte talked with Azam Pasha and with the premiers of Lebanon and Trans-Jordan.

Liquor Sale Costs $350

Sixth person arrested by city morality squad detectives in the past ten days on illegal liquor sale charges appeared in police court today.

Gudmund Pederson, 11045 129 street, with a previous conviction, was fined $350 and costs or four months in jail.

Pederson, a city taxi driver, was said to have sold a 13-ounce bottle of liquor for five dollars early Sunday morning.

Fines totalling $1,600 have been levied on five other people charged with illegal sale of liquor in the past two weeks.

Convention Signed

OTTAWA, June 16.—(CP)—Canada has signed the new convention on safety at sea arising from an international conference, just completed, Transport Minister Chevrier said in the Commons today.

The convention, which is based upon a twelve state or partition. Bernadotte talked with Azam Pasha and with the premiers of Lebanon and Trans-Jordan.

Floods Ease, Planes Back

Planes of 435 Transport Squadron have returned to RCAF station Edmonton from their emergency base at Calgary where they were sent to "Operation Sandbag" to flood-stricken British Columbia with the flood receding rapidly, so further need of transporting men, supplies and equipment by air was necessary.

The planes arrived back at their base here Tuesday night. During the three weeks of operation, the air force flew 260,000 miles, carrying 1,350,000 sandbags and more than 50 tons of urgently needed equipment to B.C. from Calgary.

During the "airlift" 886 Canadian army personnel from Alberta and Manitoba were flown to Vancouver.

At the same time it was disclosed that RCAF units at Vancouver will continue to drop supplies in the flooded Fraser Valley and interior B.C. points.

Rutherford HSA Meets Wednesday

General meeting of the Rutherford Home and School Association will be held in the school Wednesday at 8 p.m.

R. D. McLean of the provincial Publicity Bureau, will show a film on beauty spots of Alberta, and one on sports.

Miss Doreen Knowles, festival winner will give a recitation and certificates will be presented to track meet winners.

Weyburn Native Wins Farm Post

Miss Caroline Judson, native of Weyburn, Sask., has been appointed home designing specialist with the extension service of the Agriculture department of agriculture.

Mon. David Ives, minister of agriculture, said Miss Judson will work through district home economists already stationed all over the province, and will be available to give lectures and assist farm people in their home-designing problems.

Miss Judson received her early education at Weyburn and is a graduate of the University of Manitoba.

A Health Survey Committee will be established immediately by the Alberta government, according to Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, Alberta minister of health.

Dr. Cross said today that Dr. R. M. Bow, deputy minister of health, had returned Tuesday from a health conference in Ottawa, and had placed before the government details of the federal government's health assistance plan.

The plan was announced this spring by H. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King in the House of Commons.

The Alberta committee will be responsible for the survey of health conditions in the province, as requested by the federal government. It will also deal with applications from hospitals for construction aid.

The federal government scheme offers assistance, dollar for dollar with provincial aid, in hospital construction, providing local authorities were able to provide a share of the cost of construction.

Dutch Immigrants Coming Here

A total of 88 Dutch immigrants are enroute to Alberta where they will settle and become new citizens of Canada, a Canadian Nationalist paper was said Tuesday.

Two families of three each, included in the group coming to Alberta will make their new homes in Edmonton.

Another family of eight will go to the Gibbons area just north of the city, and several single persons will go to Barrhead, Millet and other nearby districts.

The immigrants arrived in Canada today aboard the Kotainten, one of two ships leaving for the Dutch government to transport immigrants from that country.

Those coming to Edmonton are expected to arrive aboard a CNR train Thursday night.

The large household economics centre, planned for the Victoria Composite High school now being erected, will be included in the next unit of the school.

This was decided at a regular meeting of the Edmonton Public School Board Tuesday night.

Original plans called for the placing of the household economics centre in a wing of classrooms to be erected as a later unit, and in the meantime, temporary arrangements would have been made.

Cost of the household economics centre in the unit will cost an estimated $31,000 when completed.

YANKS PLAN CANOE TOUR OF NORTH

American vacationists, J. C. Two adventure - seeking Bulandachar and H. S. Morton, passed through Edmonton today on a unique trip to Alaska.

The two travellers, heading into the northland for the first time are planning to paddle more than 1,000 miles in a canoe, from Waterways, 400 miles north of Edmonton, to Alaska.

They purchased a canoe at an Edmonton sporting goods store Tuesday and this morning boarded Northern Alberta Railways train for Waterways.

They will then take to the canoe for their long journey, expecting to take about two months for the trip.

The pair were limited in the amount of supplies they could carry, but hope to catch fish on the way to supplement their food supply.

They plan to travel along the Athabasca river and then join the McKenzie.

200 Immigrants Due in Alberta

Two hundred British immigrants are known to have booked passage for Alberta by September 1, according to word received from Alberta, London, this week.

R. A. McMillan, Alberta agent-general in London said there may be other family groups coming to the province, but only 200 have been drawn to his official notice.

QUEBEC MAN SENT TO JAIL FOR MOLESTING

A charge of indecent assault against two small girls brought three months prison sentence to a Quebec riveter today in police court.

Hector Roy, riveter worker, pleaded guilty to assaulting the two girls at White Mud Saturday.

The prison term is to be served at hard labor. Prosecutor Donald Masson, asking for the sentence, stressed that young children must be protected from molesters.

A nominating convention will be held at the CCF headquarters in Edmonton on July 3 at 8 p.m.

Edison CCF will name a candidate for the CCF cause and the convention will be held in the LOOF hall on 103 street.

The convention will be held in the LOOF hall on 103 street. Arrangements have been completed for six constituencies to name candidates for the CCF cause and are under way for six more.

This leaves only six ridings in which the CCF will name their candidates.

Three orchestras were in attendance—a violin group of about 60 members, and two Hawaiian orchestras, each including about 25 members.

Directors were Ray LeRoy Olson and Miss Olive Phillips. Highlight of the evening was the violin duet of Miss Yolande Bouveret and Mr. Olson, playing Kalliwots Concerto, Op. 181.

The youngsters presented a program of light music, the violin orchestra generally playing string classics, and the Hawaiian orchestras popular numbers.

An almost entirely different program will be presented tonight in the Masonic Temple auditorium, beginning at 8 p.m.

Directors will be Miss Bouveret and Miss Jean Wallish.

Warspite Plans Big Sports Day

Local Improvements System

One feature of Edmonton's paving system that could very well come under the expert scrutiny of an outside professional civil survey is the local improvements method of initiating street grading, graveling, paving, boulevarding and sidewalk building.

In many known instances, this system retards street development. It is doubtful if Edmonton's streets can ever be adequately improved under the local improvements system.

This local improvements method is prescribed with great detail in the city charter. In brief, it is this:

When residents desire an improvement made on a street, and which cannot be classified as maintenance or operation, they are provided with a petition form which must be signed by at least two-thirds of the adjacent property owners representing one-half of the assessed value of the land affected before work can commence.

These property owners are then assessed, according to a fixed schedule, for the work they require to be done.

For instance, the grading and graveling of a 26-foot road will cost each lot owner 16½ cents per front foot for ten years. Standard paving on a 26-foot road with a curb will cost 39.3 cents per front foot for 40 years. All such improvements, such as sidewalks of various types, lane graveling and paving, boulevarding, etc., represent a fixed foot-front assessment over a fixed period of years.

Experience reveals great difficulty in securing the requisite number of signatures on these petitions.

There are always the few who will not budge spending $100 or $150 on their lawns or gardens but who will refuse to spend $6 or $7 a year on paving and laying the dust that destroys those lawns and gardens to the extent of perhaps $60 or $70 a year.

There are others living on streets in residential areas that are also used as arterial highways. These residents argue, with some justification, that they should not be required to pay for the improvement of roadways that are used by thousands of people in other parts of the city.

It is possible that the local improvements system has its merits. It also has very obvious disadvantages.

Just how it should be changed or amended is something for experts to decide.

It is another very compelling reason why an outside professional civil survey should be made in Edmonton at the earliest possible moment.

Good Man in a Good Place

Appointment of the Hon. James Angus MacKinnon to the important department of mines and resources is recognition by the prime minister of Mr. MacKinnon's extraordinary ability along the lines of organization and administration.

Mr. MacKinnon's career in the Mackenzie King government has been unexceptional but exceedingly successful.

He was first elected for Edmonton West in the general election of 1935 and re-elected in that constituency in 1940 and 1945.

He was appointed to the cabinet without portfolio early in 1939 and by May of 1940 had so impressed Ottawa with his ability that he was entrusted with the vital department of trade and commerce.

His appointment to the ministry of fisheries in February of this year was known to be a temporary shift. In the department of mines and resources he will find a problem of organization equal to his talents.

With great new areas of mineral resources opening up throughout Canada, notably the tremendously rich Edmonton oil field, the department of mines and resources has become one of the most significant arms of government.

For it is in the administration of these riches that their real value to Canada and the Canadian people will be determined.

To this task, from a federal standpoint, Mr. MacKinnon brings a wide experience gained in the department of trade and commerce.

It is frequently difficult for the general public to judge the efficiency of a minister of the crown by the outward signs of his administration. Such a vast quantity of delicate questions passes through his hands and is submitted to his judgment that only those who are closely concerned in the work of the department can evaluate the capacity of a minister.

It is the judgment, then, of the civil service that is based most completely on realistic fact.

Highly placed members of the civil service have always mentioned Mr. MacKinnon's department as one of the most thoroughly organized and smooth-running of any in the government. There has been competition among capable civil servants to find places in his ministries.

The appointment of Mr. MacKinnon to mines and resources places a highly capable man in a highly important place.

Swimming Pools

Every Edmonton citizen who appreciates the value of wholesome outdoor water exercises will support Mayor Ainlay in his demand for three more civic swimming pools in this city.

The three present pools, at Borden Park, in the West End and on the South Side, are not nearly enough to accommodate a city of Edmonton's present size.

The need for more pools is additionally urgent in view of the present campaign of the Red Cross to teach swimming to every child in the city. This Red Cross water safety drive is important to children who frequent the lakes in the Edmonton area. Every child should know how to swim and how to save the lives of exhausted swimmers.

Three extra pools is the immediate minimum requirement. The mayor's stand in this matter should be backed by every parent in the city.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Druggists' Convention

Editor, Bulletin—I am pleased to note that you have given one of Alberta's big and extremely important businesses about five column inches of publicity under a one column headline on an inside page of Monday's paper. Right beside this is a three column headline over about thirty column inches of story about a privately operated hotel and cocktail bar in the North West Territories.

The druggist in any community gives a highly trained professional service to the sick in his community and almost more than any other individual engaged in a commercial enterprise to protect and safeguard the health of a community. If all the drug stores and pharmacy services were removed from the city of Edmonton tonight, the present boom would become a slump indeed.

Reason For Left Swing

Editor, Bulletin—Your article, "Left Wing Moves Forward," states a fact that is quite obvious, but no less obvious is the cause of this fact.

The last federal budget shows quite clearly the government's spirit which is to keep in poverty those who are in that state and to lend financial assistance to those who do not need it.

This is made very plain by the provision that the income of a couple over 65 years of age is taxable only at over $2,000, while, on the other hand, if a couple enjoy a small revenue of their own, the pension they are entitled to is reduced to nil.

It is something to be done for the old age people it should have been done for those in want, not for those above want.

FOR JUSTICE.

Londoners Applaud

Editor, Bulletin—In all fairness to Nathaniel Gubbins, I feel that it should be pointed out that the articles "Sitting on a Fence" appear weekly in the London Sunday Express.

During my few years' service overseas I enjoyed following this column and I am very pleased to see it carried in The Bulletin.

To the British War Bride who saw fit to criticize where 10 million Londoners applaud, may I suggest that "Charity shall begin at home."

German Future Being Bungled

The summer of 1948 is recording a mounting crisis, not only in U.S. country and in Europe. Day by day our authorities hold forth a picture of European recovery. The picture is not justified.

The European recovery plan is serious. It is certain that we shall have a Republican government, but if that government and the president of THOMPSON Spoken, Martin and Congressman Taber, we may as well fold up the idea of American leadership.

We wish we could record leadership emerging in Western Europe itself, but the fruit of the London six-power conference on Western Germany are profoundly disappointing. Where courage, largeness and decisiveness are needed, the agreement reached is inconclusive and petty. It will solve neither the German political or economic problem.

Must Import

Western Germany to distribute even the wholly inadequate minimum ration of 1,550 calories a day—which never yet has been consistently maintained—import 600 calories per day per person. To improve agricultural production, the variety of crops, potatoes, and phosphate fertilizer in which she is now in deficit of normal. She now is short of almost every raw material. In 1947, of $164 millions in exports, only $21 million, converted into fertilizer, would have been enough to import and be worth $1,500 in grain imports.

To support $5 million people, on her present truncated territory, Germany must convert coal into industrial products. But her exports are almost entirely raw materials. In 1947, of $164 millions in exports, only $21 million, converted into fertilizer, would have been enough to import and be worth $1,500 in grain imports.

No Vote for Germany

An international control shall be set up "composed of representatives of the United States, United Kingdom, France, Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany." The United States, United Kingdom, France, Germany, and the Benelux countries together shall each have three votes and all decisions shall be made by a majority. Germany, therefore, always will be outvoted. And the representative of Germany shall, "until the contracting governments otherwise decide, be designated by the vote for Germany exercised by those powers which share the responsibility for the maintenance of international peace and order."

Exporting Of Gas

Editor, Bulletin—We have read your editorial regarding the gas situation in the U.S. and among the 12th in selling us to be a gas problem. But we will not yet promise to be good. A couple of points.

We think just as much of the in this provincial assembly as we do in the U.S. and among the 12th in selling us to be a gas problem. But we will not yet promise to be good. A couple of points.

With the appointment of an investigating commission it becomes apparent that the government has awakened to the serious nature of the affair and does not intend to allow the promotion to be railroaded through. We submit that their first reaction was not so strenuous. That could be seen by anyone who reads the news reports coming from Ottawa when incorporation of the gas company was introduced in the senate committee, May 11th.

On the other point we wish to note the editorial's statement, "Alberta has been denied a sitting in the manager" fashion, ever but gas deposits without sharing them with their neighbors.

Dr. Hume's report was in the line of promotion propaganda as one of the first steps in the change of the Rowland field in his list of proven gas deposits. That field was denuded of gas in 1947 time by the city of Calgary and was since used as a storage reservoir for surplus gas from Turner valley. Now, in Turner valley itself, it is calculated only about one-third of the gas is left. It is deposited there will be recovered, on account of falling gas pressure.

Here at Edmonton, Edmonton Northwestern Utilities has to maintain a continuous process of drilling new wells in the Viking field, as old wells play out, in order to meet requirements.

In fact, Alberta's resources in that line appear to be just like they were in Pennsylvania and the East. It is merely a matter of a little time and they will be all used up, not let your imaginations run away with you.

London—One of the projects which will be brought up and carried to completion after the war will be a tunnel under the English Channel. It is reported, London. The British army will have an official weather forecaster.

There is considerable street talk of an injunction being sought to prevent the holding of a tax sale by the city.

The arrangement of the truce in Palestine is a hopeful sign. After a three weeks' war, the realities of the situation have made themselves felt. It has become clear to both sides in the actual war that neither can get what it wants by force alone—that they must talk it out, rather than shoot it out.

The decision of the United Nations Assembly to divide Palestine into Jewish and Arab states has been vindicated by the short three war.

The new Republic of Israel has shown that it is able, even with its present limited resources, to defend the areas allotted to it under the UN plan of last November. But likewise, the armies of Israel's Arab neighbor states have shown that they are able to prevent the Jews from taking over government in the whole of Palestine.

No Real Victories

It should be noted that the "victories" of the invading forces of Egypt, Syria, Lebanon, Iraq and Trans-Jordan were all more spectacular than real. Apart from the important victory in Old Jerusalem, the invading armies did not take a single objective in the area allotted by the UN decision to the Jewish state. Both sides are in possession of fringe areas allotted to the other side by the UN plan.

Egyptians are in control of the desert area in the south—which is theoretically to go to the Jews. But the Jews are in control of the Golan Heights and are also in actual possession of the strip of Jaffa and Acre, which were awarded to the Arabs by the UN plan. But the main plan of partition has been upheld rather than upset by the war.

The one really important Arab victory was won by the army of Trans-Jordan in the battle for the old walled city of Jerusalem.

The one real victory by the invading Trans-Jordan army was this won—not in an area of Israel, but in Jerusalem, which is to be part of the "international enclave," to be governed by a UN administration. It was UN, much more than Israel, which suffered the reverse.

It seems to me that the most important of all points about the war is without relation to the UN plan. It is the fact that the UN plan was upheld rather than upset by the war.

"What happened George?" "Puncture."

"You should have looked out for it. The guide book says that there was a mark in the road just about here."

An old fellow, crossing the Atlantic, was leaning over the rail when the information fiend tapped him on the shoulder.

"Sir," he said, with a wave of his hand, "do you know that if the Arab were flattened out the sea would be miles deep all over the world?"

The old fellow looked impressed.

"Well," he replied, "if you catch anyone flattening out the earth shoot him on the spot. I can't swim!"

"We'd like to have you stay to dinner with us if you are content to take 'pot-luck,'" said the wife of the man who was flattened out.

"You mean 'can-luck' my dear," murmured her husband.

Chaplain—How could you have the heart to swindle people who trusted you?

Druggists' Convention

Editor, Bulletin—I am pleased to note that you have given one of Alberta's big and extremely important businesses about five column inches of publicity under a one column headline on an inside page of Monday's paper. Right beside this is a three column headline over about thirty column inches of story about a privately operated hotel and cocktail bar in the North West Territories.

The druggist in any community gives a highly trained professional service to the sick in his community and almost more than any other individual engaged in a commercial enterprise to protect and safeguard the health of a community. If all the drug stores and pharmacy services were removed from the city of Edmonton tonight, the present boom would become a slump indeed.

Reason For Left Swing

Editor, Bulletin—Your article, "Left Wing Moves Forward," states a fact that is quite obvious, but no less obvious is the cause of this fact.

The last federal budget shows quite clearly the government's spirit which is to keep in poverty those who are in that state and to lend financial assistance to those who do not need it.

This is made very plain by the provision that the income of a couple over 65 years of age is taxable only at over $2,000, while, on the other hand, if a couple enjoy a small revenue of their own, the pension they are entitled to is reduced to nil.

It is something to be done for the old age people it should have been done for those in want, not for those above want.

FOR JUSTICE.

Editor, Bulletin—In all fairness to Nathaniel Gubbins, I feel that it should be pointed out that the articles "Sitting on a Fence" appear weekly in the London Sunday Express.

Building Boom Goes Unabated In Edmonton

Eleven homes and two apartment buildings will be erected as the result of land sales made by the city land department Monday. Four sales were made, totalling $8,880.

Stanley C. Aldrett, contractor of 10514 124 street, purchased 10 lots on the east side of 104 street, south of 113 avenue, for $3,705. He will erect 11 homes on this property, each home costing approximately $7,000.

Edward Assaly, 10322 113 street, purchased a parcel of land on the south side of Jasper avenue, west of 118 street, on which he will erect two apartment buildings, each costing $15,000. Purchase price of the property was $4,083.

Ernest E. Gordon, 8209 105 street, purchased a lot on the north side of 81 avenue, east of 104 street, for $732.35 as the site of a glass works.

John Geddes, 14609 Summit Drive, purchased a lot on the east side of 124 street south of 115 avenue as the site of a general store. Purchase price was $356.25.

PETTY THIEF IS JAILED

A clothesline thief was given 30 days hard labor at Fort Saskatchewan Tuesday.

Harold Belrose, Edmonton, charged with theft of clothing, pleaded guilty before Magistrate A. I. Mullar, in police court today.

He was apprehended 5:15 a.m. today by city police Constable D. Ritchie.

Constable Ritchie testified he found Belrose in alleyway between 105 and 106 streets near 102 avenue.

He was found with a bundle of clothing under his arm which was later identified as belonging to a nearby resident.

Highland Games Draw Many Entries

Record number of entries has been received for Dominion Day Highland Games to be held in South Side Athletic Park July 1.

Medalists and cup-winners from Alberta and other provinces will compete.

Piping and dancing is expected to be of an exceptional standard this year. H. A. MacLaine, secretary-treasurer of the Edmonton Highland Games Association said today.

Grand finale of the event will be a pipe band contest.

A street dance and carnival at 81 street and 104 avenue will climax the day's festivities in the evening.

RAPE CHARGE SET OVER

Hearing of a rape charge against Frem Uganetz, Lac La Riche district farmer, was adjourned to October 14 by Mr. Justice S. J. Shepherd in supreme court Tuesday.

The adjournment was made on application of Crown Prosecutor W. J. Shortreed.

Illness of a doctor whose evidence was essential to the Crown's case was the reason for the adjournment.

Highway Crews Work 32 Sections

Surfacing and grading crews are working on 32 sections of Alberta highways, a department of public works release said today.

Six of these crews are working on No. 2 highway between Calgary and the B.C. boundary, at Red Deer, Ponoka, Morinville, Athabasca, Woking and Beaverlodge.

Surfacing is proceeding on this road between Edmonton and Morinville and traffic is being detoured just outside of Edmonton to St. Albert.

On the Jasper highway west of Edmonton no detours are indicated, though crews are surfacing Edmonton to Spruce Grove and grading from Selkirk to St. John's.

Traffic on the Grimshaw-Hay Lake road is accommodated to Mile 21, but from there on is barred, the report says. This road is designed to meet a Dominion government constructed road from the Hay Lakes post at the northern boundary of the province.

Veterans Group Cancel Meetings

Regular monthly meetings of the South African Veterans' group have been cancelled for the holiday months of July and August.

Secretary Arthur Wensley said today that members will be notified of resumption of regular meetings some time in August.

Meetings are held in the Army Navy and Air Force Veterans' club rooms in the Churchill building.

Red Cross Seek Missing Man

Red Cross authorities in Edmonton are seeking Josef Braulik, who was born in 1893 in Riebnik Besik Landskron and came to Canada in 1907.

His last known address was in care of Max Drab, 10250 101 street, Edmonton.

Enquirer is Ignace Braulik.

Remember Lakeview, Chums?

Midweek medley and inasmuch as the Saturday night hoodlums at Lakeview is getting to be the rage again isn't it about time the Boyle Street baseball gang of the early 30's made like old times and held a reunion out there? At that the balltossers who stocked the rosters of Chevy Cubs, Stockyard Bulls, etc., will have changed more than the music, considering the way they're resurrecting the old numbers from Tin Pan Alley's ash heap. Unless Operator No. 6½ gave us the wrong dope John Ducey and L. A. (Lefty) Grove planned to be among those present at a ball tournament to be staged Wednesday out Galahad way. Object of their attention will be an outfielder by name of McKernan who recently has been belting the ball all over that part of the country. If McKernan approaches his build up and if talent scouts Ducey and Grove land him he'll join the uphappy Cubs. Joe Johansen's Amersham, sometime holder of the track record for six and one half furlongs at the Exhibition oval, was a winner in Toronto the other afternoon and gave it back at better than 9-1.

Back 20 years ago he was junior boy golf champion of Saskatchewan. By 1937 he had kept time with the stars and the Saskatchewan amateur crown was his. Today Edmonton-born Arnie Lozo is professional at the Edmonton Country Club.

The Kyle's Play Baseball

Gus and Bill Kyle, hockey playing brothers of the Regina Caps, also are summertime teammates on the baseball team of the same name. Defenceman Gus is a catcher while brother Willie takes care of third base. Last hitting averages showed both well up with the leaders. Colin Kilburn can work it so that he can travel there's every chance the rugged youngster will be among those battling for positions on the 1948-49 edition of the Flyers.

Taylor Spink was almost psychic when his Sporting News Publication named Hank Sauer, presently homing king of the National over Ralph Kiner and all the others, the "minor league player of 1947". A year ago Sauer was in the International Circuit.

To the beef department (and who isn't talking beef these times?) comes a communique from 'Faithful Fan' to the effect that we were all wet recently in references made to Ernie Marlow and Dick Dawson. Seema Marlow played with Cards in 1946 (we had it Eskimos) and Dawson really did his centre-fielding last season for Cubs, not Eskimos. Alright, so we were wrong.

Don Stanley Home Soon

Former Flyer and University of Alberta puck star Don Stanley is expected home on or about July 8. Following the ringing down of the curtain on his college activities (Harvard, no less) earlier in the month Stanley headed for Albany where he hooked on for some field work with the New York state health board. He will route himself by way of Lansing, Mich., and Ottawa when he heads for Edmonton, possibly two weeks hence, accompanied by his wife. The British Columbia interests which own Harvey M have cold-shouldered an offer of $7,500 for the Edmonton-bred three-year-old sensation of the prairie. That's a healthy bid in this part of the world. House of David and K.C. Monarchs will have at each other at Camrose, June 26. What's more the umpire will be John Ducey. Lauree Harvey, Cubs' manager, needed more hard luck like he did a hole in his head. Nevertheless he has lost the services of the hard hitting Cliff Johnston, as a result of a broken hand. Nick Masikewich also is out with a hand injury and another to head into drydock—with a sprained ankle—is Andy Clowchick.

Johnny Stott is a good thing to retain his men's singles crown in the annual city tennis tournament, starting Saturday. He should take it all in no more than a high gallop.

The Great Outdoors

By Dick Heddoes

Johnny, get your gun and hike away some evening to a shooting precinct on the outskirts of greater Edmonton. More specifically it's West Jasper Place where members of the Edmonton Gun Club have a trap and skeet shooting range. Upwards of 50 blaze away at clay pigeons every Tuesday and Friday over the flat 30-acre area.

Golfers talk of firing a "hole-in-one" and in baseball they refer to a "grand slam home" coming with the bases loaded. Doing either means you've momentarily hit perfection—you can't get any better.

Shooting's closest approach to a hole-in-one is firing 25 at the trap or skeet. But getting a perfect score at the traps didn't satisfy Babe Gaucher Tuesday—he kept picking them off until he also had 25 in the skeet department.

To the gunners that amounts to carding a pair of holes-in-one on the same course, the same day. No one, not even Charlie Craddock, a long-time member and current president of the club, could recall having seen two perfect counts at trap and skeet in one night at the Edmonton range.

DAVIS, GAUCHER DEAD-HEAT

Bill Davis, the sharpshooting farmer from Clover Bar, matched Gaucher at the traps with 25. Pat St. Peter, red-haired Lorne MacDougall, Gordon Dams and Hal Straith followed with 24's. The latter, boss-man of The Bulletin, learned his clay pigeons on Vancouver's Pacific sweep.

John Michaels, city champion Bill Lethian, Bill Headley and Walt Muirhead trailed the leaders Tuesday with 23.

Nobody equalled Gaucher when it came to skeet firing. Freddie Morris who comes in regularly from Sylvan Lake to compete, carded a 23 and Jack Elliott smacked 24. Wes Hicks had 23 while MacDougall, Bob Turner and Dr. Paul Hervieux, were all bunched at 22.

Lindsay Elliott, the only pro in local circles, was matched with Davis, Headley, Michaels, and Gaucher in a single trapshooting handicap relay. The regulation distance for traps is 16 yards, but you're moved back according to your season's scores in handicap competition.

The five went back as far as anybody ever goes—25 yards. It was Elliott who led with 22, but Davis and Lethian were there with 21's. Gaucher, a sophomore

FORMER ALBERTA CHAMP

Bill Davis likes to shoot. And that's perhaps why he is recognized as the finest clay-buster in Edmonton and the northwest. In 1941 he won the Alberta championship on a Calgary range, and since the provincial meet has been suspended since that date he still holds the crown.

Davis winged his first clay target in 1937. Time was when he maintained a trap on the farm just by way of sharpening his sights. But today the bi-weekly shoots during summer and '22 hunting in the winter keeps the Davis-eye grounded for war.

Every enthusiast has his own theories about becoming a good shot. But basically keeping your feet on the ground, guessing angles accurately, and reading speeds does the trick according to Davis. "Actually skeet shooting is easier than traps," Bill said, "because you pretty well know where the bird is going to be. There are a lot of angles for a pigeon to fly when it leaves the trap."

THREE DOT STUFF

Bus Brown, Fergus Owens, and President Craddock are the hard-working trio in the club. They take care of most executive and publicity business in the organization.

Rod MacCosham, at 12 years the youngest member on the range, broke eight at skeet Tuesday. Craddock is also tied up in the fish and game cordon and at the moment is talking of organizing a crow about. The dark-haired, effervescent Gaucher casts fish lines on the side, and reports considerable goldies at the mouth of the Sturgeon River.

Vets and Norwood Get Kingsway Wins

Bob Wickland of Anavets hurled seven-hit fastball at Kingsway Tuesday to crash the RCAF Jets 3-1. Norwood Legion only secured four hits in the opener but went on to stagger Moose 12-9.

One run in the first and two in the second provided Anavets with a winning margin. Fred Buckle homered in the second for the lone RCAF run. Frank Pizulo, Anavets' third baseman-pitcher, led the batters with a two-for-four evening.

Sian Ahlstrom and Ed Melnyk, Moose pitchers, issued nine walks between them to more or less give Norwood the decision in the first game. After Moose went ahead 8-0 in the first two innings Norwood bounced back with eight in the third. Four in the fifth clinched it for Norwood.

Garneau Net Stars Retain Laurels

Irma McManus and Isabel McConnell, Garneau net stars, successfully defended the Northern Hardware Trophy Tuesday night by defeating Cal Holmgren and Grace Wilson, Civil Service, in straight sets 6-3, 4-3 at the Garneau courts.

The match was much closer than the score would indicate, with both teams pulling off several good rallies and some nifty net shots. So keen was the competition that the two losers immediately challenged the winners to another dual, to be played after the city championships.

Pre-Olympic Track Stars Run Saturday

Seniors to Vie for Zone Trial Berths at Stadium

Gordon Higginson is hoping for that old tenet of "weather clear and track fast" to prevail Saturday, June 19. For at the week-end Higginson's Polar Bear Track and Field Club will sponsor pre-Dominion track and field championships at Clarke Stadium. Winners will travel to the Olympic zone trials at Winnipeg on June 24.

Seniors will highlight the Saturday jamboeree but Higginson has also arranged a card of events for junior competitors. The meet is open to all athletes registered in the Alberta Amateur Union, and the rules of that organization will prevail for all events.

Late Tuesday few entries had been filed with Higginson. Pat Dorman, a broad jump man from Kitscoty who placed among the contenders at the Dominion meet here a year ago, will be ready. Senior men from the Polar Bears include the all-round Pat Walker of Vulcan, and Nick Lupaschuk, a long distance gait out of Waskatenau.

As yet no word has been heard from the powerful Calgary contingent of Jim Lavery, Ernie McCullough and Don Jettie. Junior men entered include Don Monteiff, Dick Bradshaw, Paul Viking, Doug Swail, Crest Stogryn, A.I. Bryant and Laurie Robertson. And among the ladies there'll be Doreen McLeod, Mona Creighton, Doris Nufer and Sylvia Calder. Needless to say Lauree Harney,

Cubs vs Eskimos All Over Again

It will be Cubs against Eks all over again at Kennew Park Wednesday night. Starting time reverts to 8:00 o'clock after Tuesday's Kiwanis benefit show left the gate at 8:30.

OILERS TRAIN SIGHTS ON BASEBALL FLAG

Texaco Oilers figure there's an intermediate baseball pennant in the offing for them.

And just by way of boosting their chances in Tom O'Flaherty's league, the Oilers coked Braves 16-3 at Maple Leaf Stadium, Tuesday night. Nick Artyniuk cooked the Braves' goose with a dazzling two-hit pitching performance.

The triumph was Texaco's fourth straight and their fifth in six games since the season opened three weeks ago. The Kennedy brothers—Mac and Ken—are rapidly rising in stature as long ball-hitters with the Oilers. Tuesday each smacked three safeties to appearhead a 15-hit attack on Brave hurlers Hugh Ritz, Ken Ball, and Harris Boucher. One of Ken's blows was a homer in the sixth with one on.

Darkness forced umpire George Wilson to call the game after six innings.

Murphy Reports On City Hall

By W. M. (Spud) Murphy

During the past week 10,000 flower plants have been ruthlessly uprooted from flower beds in Edmonton's parks. Landscaping surrounding Civic buildings has been stripped of flowers by vicious hands, the blossoms wantonly scattered to the winds.

FOR CHILDREN

Insurance Sought By Council

Neighborhood gangs are responsible for the destruction, which has been reported to police authorities. Law enforcement officers are undoubtedly interested in the problem according to officials of the parks department.

This is not the case. They are uprooted and tossed away within a few feet of the flower beds that have been desecrated.

The lack of any sense of the privileges and obligations of society, displayed by these hoodlums, poses a serious problem.

If caught, and every effort should be made to catch them, they should be set to work on cleaning streets, replanting the flower beds, and doing chores calculated to teach them the real meaning of civic responsibility.

Census takers are making rapid progress toward the completion of the street canvases. It will be some weeks yet before the 1948 population increase is known.

Weeds in profusion are blossoming throughout the city, and mostly on city owned property. Dandelions appear to be ready to spread their seeds to the winds.

It is about time the transit system's workers gave a facelift to the tracks along 141 avenue. This strip of tram line is becoming dangerous.

Fire ladders, policemen are due to have a new issue of shirts shortly.

The city is calling for tenders for 600 shirts, dark and light blue in color, with sizes ranging from 14 to 18½ inches.

Wonder if the sawn size is for the fire ladders.

Torrance to Head Alberta Druggists

Clarence G. Torrance, of Mannville, was elected president of the Alberta Pharmaceutical Association at the annual meeting of the association Monday.

Walter H. Sprague, of Edmonton, was elected vice-president.

Meeting of the druggists was part of the two-day convention of the group which began Monday at the Macdonald hotel. About 200 delegates are attending.

Among the resolutions passed at Monday night's meeting were:

Recommendation to the association council of the founding of a University of Alberta pharmacy scholarship, in memory of the late J. E. "Jake" Warner.

Assistance to druggists in flood-stricken British Columbia areas, through a grant to be made to the B.C. Pharmaceutical Association.

Councillors elected to the association executive include: Frederick J. Lang, Dayland, Nelson, J. Deveau, Hanna (retiring president); James T. Clarke, Calgary; Otto L. Reinicke, Glenside; John H. Boylan, Medicine Hat.

C. W. Pickup will continue in his post of registrar-treasurer.

At University of Alberta Pharmacy Alumni Association luncheon Monday, election of officers was held.

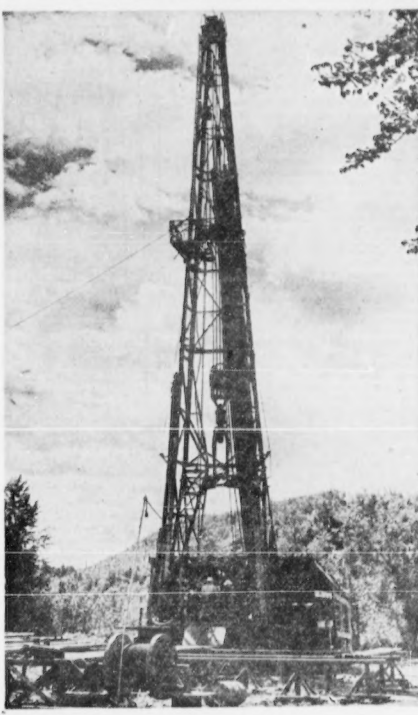

Among those elected to the executive of the association were: Bert Coffin, Calgary, president; Ted Hart, Edmonton, vice-president; James Clark, Calgary, secretary-treasurer.

Members of the class of '33 celebrated their anniversary.

Changing World Viewed by Editor

Man learns something from what the world gives him, something when the world hurts him, but most from what he gives to the world.

This was the thought carried to more than 300 persons, attending the annual banquet of the Alberta Pharmaceutical Association Tuesday, by Harold L. Weir, editorial writer for The Edmonton Bulletin.

Delivering the feature address to the dinner meeting, closing a two-day convention of the druggists, Mr. Weir took as his topic: "Thirty Years in Journalism."

Observing that a motto of the journalistic profession is "complete disinterestedness," Mr. Weir declared materialism that marks our time.

Stating he was addressing himself to those born into the present, he said, "I am not speaking of other world, the speaker said: "... this rather grim and battered planet did, indeed, once know better days."

Then, as from a conning tower of journalism, Mr. Weir reviewed the world's alternate hopes, fears and tragedies in the past 30 years.

He recalled the period before the First World War, when men loved their countries but were not Man became more earth-bound than ever, and is even yet floundering in a sea of bewilderment and confusion, he said.

The more recent world tragedy of war, and its bitter aftermath, the result of corruption, Mr. Weir stated.

Needs of British People Stressed by Fund Official

The second Battle of Britain is on and Edmontonians are being asked to help.

Plans for a united collection and distributing agency for Canadian aid to Britain were disclosed in Edmonton Monday night, at a meeting held in the Macdonald hotel by the Alberta government.

The agency is the United Emergency Fund for Britain, and aims and purposes of the organization were outlined by Sir Ellsworth Flavell, national chairman, Kenneth F. MacLaren, managing director, and Lady Eaton, honorary treasurer.

Aims of the United Emergency Fund for Britain, Sir Ellsworth Flavell told the meeting, is to co-ordinate and augment the efforts of all organizations and individuals in Canada, interested in offering and providing assistance to the British people.

It plans to conduct an annual national campaign for funds, patterned after combined appeal of the Community Chest. This will be held during the first three weeks of November.

Through a unified system of purchasing Sir Ellsworth said, the organization plans to avert costly competitive buying and thereby divert more funds to the purchase of food and supplies.

As a result British life has become drab and monotonous at a time when the world needs a re-built active mind.

National headquarters of the association are located in Ottawa, where office space and equipment have been contributed.

A survey is being made of the British emergency needs, managing director, Kenneth MacLaren, told the meeting, in order to determine what types of assistance

EDMONTON AGAIN HAS WESTERN RAIL LINK

NEW TOWNSITE BEING PREPARED ON RIVER BANK

A new townsite along the banks of the North Saskatchewan river is being surveyed and water and sewer lines are being laid for use of the new settlement's residents.

The new town is near Heinsburg, about 100 miles east of Edmonton on the North Saskatchewan river, and will be used by workers in the salt plant discovered when oil companies found a rich salt bed during drilling operations.

The salt plant is now making test runs, which indicate the plant will be able to produce all types of salt from very coarse to finest domestic.

The new townsite, which is identified by provincial government officials as a part of Heinsburg, will be serviced with electricity, water and sewer from the salt plant.

Property Men Support Hotel

Support for a city council decision to sell a hotel site in the Civic Centre area has been officially voiced by the Edmonton Property Owners' Association.

The executive of the association unanimously approved the motion of support.

Important to the hotel to the city from a standpoint of taxes and employment, was stressed by the body.

They pointed out that Edmonton, with a population 25,000 greater than that of Calgary, has only 60 per cent of the hotel accommodation of that city.

Opinion was expressed that the hotel would be a worthwhile addition to the Civic Centre, and should not in any way interfere with the construction of an auditorium.

The meeting endorsed a decision of the Canadian Property Owners' Association with regard to rent controls on living quarters.

They favored the suggestion that a test case be taken to court to demonstrate the ending of dominion government control in that field.

CPR Moves First Train Into Vancouver Centre

Direct rail connections between Edmonton and Vancouver were re-established Tuesday night, for the first time since May 28, when a Canadian Pacific Railway freight train reached the Pacific Coast city.

The freight chugged its way slowly over a 555-foot emergency bridge at Hatzic, B.C., 44 miles from Vancouver.

Today the first direct passenger link, since floods swept the Fraser Valley area about three weeks ago, will be set up.

Both Montreal and Toronto-bound trans-continental trains of the CPR were scheduled to leave Vancouver at regular times today.

First through passenger trains to the coast on the CPR line will arrive at Vancouver Thursday.

At Hatzic, Tuesday afternoon, George H. Baile, vice-president of the Pacific region of the CPR, gave the "go ahead" sign for the first freight train to link the east and west.

Between Yale and Vancouver, a distance of 125 miles, the CPR line, company engineers and work gangs have conquered seven track washouts within three weeks.

This includes the bridging of the Hatzic gap, where waters of the rain-soaked Fraser river reached a depth of 60 feet.

Logs, averaging 100 feet in length, were used as pilings for the foundation of the emergency bridge.

Meanwhile, Canadian National Railways officials today expressed the hope that their trains bound for Vancouver would also go all the way through on Thursday.

Trans-continental CNR trains arriving in Edmonton were cancelled this morning, and "may get right through to Vancouver," E. G. Skelving, superintendent of transportation said today.

"The line is now open to Chilliwack and beyond for the damage is not near as bad as we thought it might be," the superintendent declared.

"Large sections of the track were under water and we didn't know what to expect," he said.

Work is progressing rapidly at Hatzic, on the CNR line, where track was washed out for a considerable distance, and it is believed that this area will be passable by Thursday.

In the meantime, CNR is still giving westbound passengers the option of flying by TCA when they reach here, and about 80 to 100 passengers are being flown each day.

Two refresher courses and a convention of provincial school officials began Tuesday at the University of Alberta.

The variety department of extension, in cooperation with the Alberta School Trustees' Association and the Alberta Divisional Secretary-Treasurers' Association, are holding the fourth annual refresher course in school administration.

Extension department, Alberta Association of Municipal District Secretaries-Treasurers, and department of municipal affairs, are having the tenth annual refresher course in municipal administration.

Held concurrently with the latter course is the 25th annual convention of the Alberta Association of Municipal District Secretaries-Treasurers.

The school officials' gathering will meet for four days today. Registration began at the University Tuesday.

Between 120 and 150 are expected to attend.

Attending the municipal administration course are secretary-treasurers, assistants, councillors, and other officials of rural and urban municipalities.

Those attending the school administration course include school trustees, divisional secretaries, and other officials of rural school divisions and urban school boards.

At the end of the past week there were 1,466 unemployed males and 513 unemployed female workers registered with the Edmonton office. This was a drop of 234 from the overall total of the week previous.

A total of 1,613 unfilled vacancies were reported for the past week, an increase of 108 over the preceding week.

Majority of those now registered as unemployed, Mr. Paterson said, are older men unfit for heavy work or youths seeking their first jobs.

These workers are needed for jobs on farms, construction work and road-making, he said.

TRUANCY MOUNTS DURING MAY

It may be the warm weather, but nevertheless an increase in truancy at Edmonton public schools has been reported for the month of May.

In his report on attendance for the month of May, James M. Roxburgh, attendance officer, states that 28 cases were investigated. During the same month last year, only 20 incidents of truancy were reported.

Govt. Issues New Booklet

A new provincial publication was placed in the mails today by officials of the department of economic affairs.

It is a monthly publication entitled "Within Our Borders."

Officials said 15,000 copies of the first issue had been mailed to people throughout the province. More were available on application to the department.

The publication is designed to acquaint the people of the province with the administration and services of the Alberta government, an explanatory note on the front page of the issue explains.

Officials said there was "no politics" involved in the publication. The first issue deals with the opening of the Centre-Lethbridge highway, the work of district health nurses and the Alberta Automobile Accident Indemnity Act.

Other short items in the paper tell of specialized work in the department of agriculture and of education.

Jasper Ratepayers Will Meet Friday

A meeting of the West Jasper Ratepayers' Association will be held in the east wing of the 136 street school Friday at 8 p.m.

Reports will be received on new school construction and municipal affairs.

A motion asking for sidewalk construction on 149 street from Stony Plain Road to 95 avenue will be discussed.

Tongue One Answer To Meat-Cost Problem

By Bea Thrifty

Believe it or not, The crafty housewife still can find bargains in meat if she has trained her family not to demand steaks and chops as a daily dinner dish.

Pennywise housewives suggest tongue as a real bargain—calf, lamb or beef tongue are equally good.

And inexpensive you can buy ready-to-serve tongue at 22c a pound.

It's solid meat, served hot or cold—jellied or plain—it can be a dish to satisfy both the budget and the family's palate.

Then again there is the meat that Maggie hates and Jiggs loves—corned beef. You can buy it—37c a pound.

Green and white salads have a knack of adding a "cool look" to a summertime dinner table, and here's a simple-to-make gem.

Simply chop a cucumber (42c a pound), grate a carrot, and add to slightly thickened time jello. Pour into molds and serve on shredded cabbage or lettuce leaves with mayonnaise.

Good this . . .

Now is the time to come to the aid of the party with some "cute-a-button" coasters. They're inexpensive jobs (selling for 80c) and boast a gay little verse on each coaster.

Just enough spice to the veritas to keep the conversation brisk—balls going for the first few awkward moments of a party.

Everyone has a disreputable old chair in their attic or garage. Everyone would like a pretty slip-covered "boudoir chair".

Thinking to do is to march right down to the department store and buy a few yards of dainty naut.

WHY GROW OLD

Diet and Exercise Necessary for Health

By Josephine Lowman

The care you give yourself during pregnancy and afterwards will mean a great deal to you in health and in beauty.

There is no permanent spread in the boney structure and your problems in figure will consist of lengthened and weakened abdominal muscles and over-weight—if you become fat during those nine months.

If you do gain, then of course, you will have to diet as well as exercise. How soon you begin exercise will depend on what your doctor says. Usually a woman is told to exercise regularly after six weeks—and mild exercises are recommended even earlier.

Always consult your physician before taking up a course of exercise. Since the abdominal muscles are weak, you should begin with easy ones and work up to more difficult motions.

The care you give your bust during the nursing period is important. Be sure you have brassieres which are especially planned to support the unusual weight and always lie down when you nurse your baby. Later on take bust-firming exercises.

Do not be distressed if you find yourself somewhat depleted in energy. It takes a little while to build back to normal, therefore give yourself a chance with a little extra rest. I have often noticed that having a child seems to renew energy.

Many women feel better afterwards than they did before. If given a little time, feel your way along. Do not push yourself. I do not know whether this renewal is due to the fact that becoming a mother is such a natural process and so closely allied to nature, or whether it is psychological.

Perhaps the happiness you feel has to do with the magic factor in making you look younger than you did before!

If you are nursing your baby you will have to wait until after you see him before undertaking any strenuous diet. However, you can leave off the cakes and pies and candy and whipped cream now.

If you wish to have my leaflet which provides advice for care during and after pregnancy, with special attention to resulting faults in beauty, send a stamped self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 21 to

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Couple Should Take Separate Vacations

How often and how long should husbands and wives take vacations away from each other? This is one of the $64 matrimonial questions that cannot be answered definitely, because it all depends upon the temperaments of the individual party of the first part and the party of the second part.

Sometimes, as the old adage says, absence makes the heart grow fonder. And sometimes it makes it grow fonder for some other woman or man.

Generally speaking, there are two schools of thought on the subject of vacations. One is the adhesive or mustard plaster, type of marriage which holds that husbands and wives never should take a day off from each other's society.

They should go to the same places, know the same people, read the same books, eat the same food, and realize the poet's ideal of two souls with but a single thought, two hearts that beat as one.

This plan is presumed to promote the affection of married couples, and it probably works with the rubber-stamp type of individuals, for it is no uncommon thing to hear a wife boast that she and her husband have never been parted for a day in the 30 or 40 years of their marriage.

But the other hand, the husband and wife who take their vacation alone, she goes and both return refreshed and filled with new things to talk about.

But the same vacation for husbands and wives, like all other good things, must be taken in moderation. Two or three weeks' separation will give the galled spots made by the marriage the time to heal.

It will give the husband and wife a chance to realize the privilege of freedom is the loneliest thing on earth and that, after all, there is no place like home.

All of which adds up into saying: Take your vacation. Enjoy it. But make it short and snappy. And be careful. Don't forget that there is always a summer widow or widower seeking whom she or he may devour.

It contends that the reason that so many husbands and wives all up of evenings in a silence so thick you could cut it with a knife—or else quarrel is because they are so tired of each other, and that the way to keep a marriage a going concern is to keep it moving, instead of static.

Now each of these plans for the vacation of husbands and wives has its points. The married couple unusual. Can be either happy, friendly or indifferent. Many artists, speakers, lawyers and writers in this regard write actively. Avoid impatience.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Some Babies Reluctant To Part With Bottle

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

When a mother takes the bottle away from the baby and says, in effect, "Nothing but cups now," she may come up against some real resistance. Babies, even those over one year of age, may not part with their bottle complacently.

It is natural for them to like the bottle. It is an easy and familiar way of getting milk. It has a soothing influence on them because it immediately precedes sleep. These are strong influences and ones the baby parts with reluctantly.

One need not snatch the bottle away and make a scene about it. This may stiffen the baby's resistance toward cups. It's better for all concerned to be flexible about this change in feeding utensils—without being so casual as to let bottles go indefinitely.

Here is the way it is managed with a one-year-old girl who is still addicted to the bottle. At the morning meal she gets part of her milk in her cereal and gets the rest to drink from a cup. She holds it while her mother guides it so she won't "drawn."

At noon she gets meat or egg, her vegetables, some of the milk in her custard pudding which she gets for dessert and the rest by cup.

In the middle of the afternoon milk by cup, and drinks it some of the time just as often she will accept a half cup of water and push the milk away.

BUT, at night, she wants the bottle. She eats her food willingly, but she will have nothing to do with the cup. She drains the bottle sitting upright in her high chair. Even in infancy it was never given to her in her crib. But she holds onto the bottle lovingly and it is plain that, in infancy, it was never given to her in her crib.

There is no saying how long she will demand this bottle. Her mother complains that, when the store of nipples has been exhausted, there will be no more bought. All of this is very important. She is drinking from a cup and getting more and more used to it. She is getting this bottle at a time when it seems to fulfill some need of hers. In time it may be expected that she will agree to take some milk by cup and some night the bottle will disappear and not be seen again.

Our leaflet No. 44 "Teaching Use of Cups and Spoons" may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

A NEW HEINTZMAN'S FOR MUSIC-LOVING EDMONTON

Announcing THE GRAND RE-OPENING of the modernized HEINTZMAN & CO. LTD. EDMONTON STORE

IT IS WITH SINCERE PLEASURE that the management of Heintzman and Co., Ltd., announce the re-opening of the Edmonton store tonight, Wednesday 7 p.m. The modernization has taken over one year to complete. During this time we realize our patrons have been inconvenienced due to the extensive alterations. However we know that Edmonton citizens will now be appreciative of the new conveniences which this new Heintzman store presents to the musical public. Indeed the entire planning of this beautiful new store has been motivated by a desire to offer every facility and comfort to you who know and appreciate music. Heintzman's are equally proud of the opportunity they have had during their many years in Edmonton in assisting and encouraging the development of musical culture in this city. It is fitting that the new Heintzman's be dedicated in service to the continued development of one of our finest heritages — music in the home.

A Cordial Invitation is Extended to the Public

The management and staff of Heintzman's extend a cordial invitation to all Edmontonians to visit their new store during the official opening commencing

TONIGHT, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 16th AT 7 P.M.
To Saturday, June 19th at 9:30 p.m.

The entire staff will be on duty to show you through the newly modernized building. It will be a pleasure to present actual demonstrations of the finest musical instruments including the Heintzman Piano and the Heintzman Organ and Mitchell Organ.

COMPLETELY rebuilt, modernized and refitted, our new Heintzman store is musically yours! For here you will discover our participation in just the way you've always desired some famous piano and music store. Where ever your own personal musical tastes have been before, Heintzman's are permitted to offer a splendid and complete service to musicians and music-lovers. It is surely a revelation in convenience and comfort. New standards of excellence. In fact all the attributes which have contributed so importantly to the Heintzman reputation for supreme quality. The interior design should be of interest to everyone. The new organ salon is of exquisite beauty. The spacious piano salon of majestic charm. Both as lovely as anywhere on the continent. The layout of catalog, or service, special compartments will point out the music, books and appliances. And the introduction of our modern record salon on the lower street floor, with its new phase of musical taste and with the splendid pianos developed and constructed solely to the inspiring pleasure of patrons.

HEINTZMAN'S believes in the rule that in having the finest, one almost invariably practices the standard. Because we know we have had the most perfect faith in the principle of having only the best and see the finest, we can unhesitatingly recommend that you explore the vast new world of music at Heintzman's.

JASPER AVE. Limited EDMONTON

MODERN STOREFRONT of newly redesigned Heintzman store presents a new added brilliant touch to Jasper Avenue. It features longest single pane of plate glass in the city. Interior of windows is finished in natural woods, giving an atmosphere of dignity for the display of the finest musical instruments.

From Jive to Beethoven Heintzman's Stock It

One of the largest selections of varied, leading makes, of phonograph records—classical and popular in Edmonton, are stocked in the ultra modern store, at the newly-renovated Heintzman Hall.

The store, which occupies a greater part of the lower floor, is managed by J. S. R. Caplan, who has been in the record stock business for many years. Heintzman's "records" are stocked in the modern sales counter, which extends 42 feet, covering two walls of the department.

"We have one of the largest stocks of records in the city, and probably in Western Canada," said manager Caplan. "Greatest present day demand for records is of the classical variety, strange as it may seem," he said.

This is in evidence with five of the eight soundproof booths being allocated for patrons to enjoy classical records.

The other three booths, equipped with the latest designed record players with a 12-in. speaker, are available for followers of the popular selections.

Like every other part of the premises, the record sales, is the latest word in modern design and construction.

The attractive sales counter with well spaced showcases set in it, is one of the features of the store.

Another outstanding highlight is the "Children's Corner," where records for the little people are stocked.

In this attractive section, set off from the main sales, all the children's favorite nursery rhymes, bedtime stories, and other favorites are stocked.

Piano-Makers For 50 Years

Heintzmans have been making pianos for nearly a century, and during this period there have been a great many changes in construction, size and style.

All these changes, with the necessary changes in scale design, have been made by members of the Heintzman family themselves.

Heintzmans have always been leaders in recognizing changes and developments in piano manufacturing.

They were among the first to change from the old square piano that was popular during the nineteenth century and were first to recognize the advantages of the over string scale, now used exclusively in the manufacture of upright and grand pianos.

Heintzman and Company were the first to adopt the player piano and have been leaders in modern piano design.

Tubby Mumford On Sales Staff

Ralph Harvey Mumford, one of Edmonton's better known musicians, is an employee of Heintzman and Company Limited, Edmonton.

"Tubby" as he is called by most of his friends and associates, has been with the firm for 15 months as a salesman.

Prior to joining Heintzman's he was engaged in radio and orchestra activities.

While his chief musical forte is the piano, Mumford is recognized as a bellows-accordion player and organist.

He has appeared on a number of CBC network programs, was a member of the De Courcey orchestra, and prominent in local radio circles.

Born and educated in Alberta, he started his business career in Edmonton with the Canadian National Telegraph in 1929.

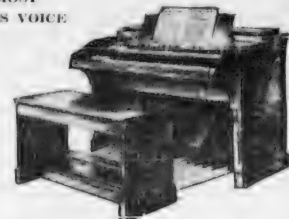

He began his musical career in 1922, becoming an accomplished pianist and being considered the leading exponent in western Canada of the piano accordion.

He was a member of the RCAF band during the Second World War, existing in February, 1942 as a bellows-accordion player and organist, and being demobilized in August 1945.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, Wednesday, June 16, 1948

History of the Firm Unique in Canada

The first piano made by Theodore E. Heintzman in Toronto was made in his private home.

Hammers, action and keys, and every other part of the piano, were made and assembled in his own house.

Lumber had to be dried in the back yard and beside the kitchen stove.

A lot of intricate work which is required on the action, hammers, dampers and keys, was done by his wife.

After the death of T. A. Heintzman, the business was carried on by his four sons, Herman, William, George C. and Charles.

They were all factory-trained experts, and learned each trade of manufacturing thoroughly, under the supervision of their father.

George C. third son of the elder Heintzman, was considered a "chip off the old block" and his driving force eventually resulted in his being chosen president of the firm of brothers.

The factory was moved from the rear of a retail store to a new site in West Toronto, and was gradually built up until, at the present time, the factory covers several acres on Heintzman Avenue.

Shortly after becoming president of the firm, George C. saw possibilities of opening up branch stores, owned and operated by the company, in order to concentrate more effectively, the retailing of the Heintzman product.

At present, as a result of George's foresight, Heintzman and Company operate their factory, producing the Heintzman product, the head office on Yonge Street, Toronto, and several other retail branches located at Hamilton, London, Windsor, and Fort William in Ontario, Regina, Calgary and Edmonton in western Canada.

In practically every city of any size in Canada, Heintzman's have established agents or representatives.

Heintzman pianos, over a period extending from 1885, have been exported to practically every country in the world.

The first attempt to export was made by George C. when he shipped a consignment of 30 pianos to England in 1885, for the British Colonial Exposition, took personal charge of the shipment, and remained in England until they were all sold.

At the Exposition Heintzman and company were awarded a medal of merit for the excellence of their product.

Heintzman's 'New Look' Open to Public Today

It will be "open house" at Heintzman Hall tonight.

Edmonton's pioneer piano house and music store, which has been completely remodelled and renovated will be declared open for public inspection.

One of the most attractive business settings in the city, featuring three floors of pianos, organs and musical equipment, household appliances and other musical supplies, will be on display.

Edmontonians who have made purchases at Heintzman Hall in the past will be literally amazed at the complete transformation of the premises.

Everything, with the exception of the two side walls of the building has been rebuilt and modernized.

The "new look" definitely makes Heintzman Hall, one of the most modern and attractive business establishments in the city.

Heintzman first commenced business in Edmonton in 1904, occupying space in the old Douglas Book Store.

In 1905, under the management of H. Ingram, a sub-branch of the Calgary store was opened, carrying on until 1913 when the first main store was opened on the ground floor of the Mortlake Block.

In 1927, McCall came to Edmonton to manage the store, succeeding Ingram.

The firm operated in their Mortlake block location on five street until shortly after the war when they moved to the old Crystal Jasper Avenue.

Shortly after the opening of the new store, W. J. Davis, replaced McCall as manager of the store.

May, 1935, the present manager, W. G. Strachan, took over the management.

One of the new manager's first moves was to remodel the premises.

The store remained unchanged in appearance until May last year when the post-war remodeling program was undertaken, transforming the premises into its present ultra modernization.

Foremost Piano Tuner On Heintzman Staff

"... No other like ours in Western Canada." That is stated emphatically and proudly by the three men in Heintzman's piano repair department.

The three are Joel Loewen, foreman, Harry Weisser and Dave McConachie.

They are acknowledged experts in their field of keeping Heintzman pianos in the best of condition.

The trio does everything from the absolute essential of restringing pianos, to putting the gleaming finish on their brilliant instrument.

All are top-notch piano technicians—they have to be, because Heintzman pianos are used by some of the foremost musicians in the world.

Fame of the Edmonton repair department has spread outside Alberta's boundaries.

Pianos come from Saskatchewan and British Columbia for musical face-lifting.

Former residents of Edmonton who have had the Heintzman team take care of their pianos before, ship their instruments thousands of miles, so pleased have they been in the past with the work done by Joe Loewen and his crew.

A group of six other expert piano tuners is maintained by Heintzman's to give northern Alberta citizens the same care which Edmonton residents have at their disposal.

Joe Loewen, who has been at the piano-doctoring trade for about 20 years, has been termed "a genius at piano rebuilding."

He is an expert tuner in his own right.

We were privileged to be associated with the modernizing of the new Heintzman Store.

Nova Scotia Crop Planting 'Critical'

HALIFAX, June 16.—(CP)—Nova Scotia's crop planting situation has reached "the critical stage," provincial agriculture minister Mackenzie said yesterday. Late spring weather and continuous rain have made it impossible for farmers to move their equipment into fields.

It's Canada First With Heintzman's

Canadians don't realize how fortunate they are in having first choice at Heintzman pianos.

The famous Heintzman is essentially a Canadian piano but is exported to other parts of the world. "Heintzman pianos are something you can't mass-produce," J. C. Huxson, at Heintzman and Company's piano department, told The Bulletin.

The high standard necessary for each piano, before it leaves the factory, makes mass production impossible, he stated.

Recently a California piano dealer wrote to Heintzman's. He said he has been 25 years in the music business, and never before had he heard such music as he did hear coming from a Heintzman.

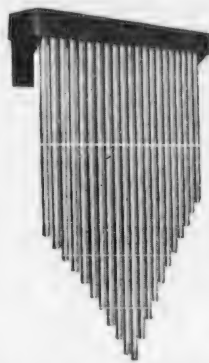

Other orders come from all parts of the world, South Africa, South America, Australia, United States.

India To Remain Within Empire

CALGARY, June 16.—(CP)—India will remain a member of the British Commonwealth of Nations so long as she is treated like a member of a family and so long as she feels she has something to contribute to the union. John Dunderdale, world service representative of the YMCA in India since 1935, said in an address before the Calgary Rotary Club yesterday.

Officer Moved

LETHBRIDGE, June 16.—(CP)—George F. Manson, officer in charge of the Federal Botanical Branch in Lethbridge for the last four years, has been posted to a similar position in Chatham, Ont.

Edmonton Gains Widely In New Heintzman's Hall

In a miracle of modernization, Heintzman Hall has been transformed from an ordinary music store into one of the most attractive business establishments in Canada.

The pioneer piano firm, which has operated a store in the city since 1904, has in the space of a little more than a year, been completely remodelled and expanded. The thorough was the improvement program that only the sale of the old structure form part of the new construction.

BUILT IN 1904
The original building was erected in 1904 by A. Cristall and was known as the Crystal Block.

In 1929 the premises were purchased by Heintzman and Company and renamed Heintzman Hall.

In May, 1937, the Heintzman firm commenced their post-war alteration program, with an addition to the rear of the premises, and gradually tore down and rebuilt each floor of the three-story building.

First to receive improvement was the lower floor which now houses the modern record salon, the appliance section, ticket office for various local musical societies, and shipping and storage quarters.

Then the second floor was reconstructed, being transformed into attractive and modern piano and organ salons.

Also located on this floor is the work shop, where pianos, organs, radios, and instruments are repaired, rebuilt and repolished.

MAIN FLOOR LAST
The main floor was the last to take on the "new look".

This section houses an attractive floor display of new pianos, radios and musical instruments, the general office, the manager's office and the sheet music department.

which is located on the mezzanine directly above the manager's and the general office.

From the attractive vitrolite tile floor, with modernized neon lighting of the firm's name and incandescent products offered for sale to the rear of the premises, Heintzman Hall has been streamlined to perfection.

Two appealing show windows that flank the double-door entrance enhance the appearance of the modernized premises.

INDIRECT LIGHTING
Lighted by indirect, but flexible spot-lamps, which can be adjusted so as to draw extra attention to any object displayed and finished in light oak hardwood flooring and mahogany paneling, these display windows add prestige to the establishment, and may be closed in two of the most attractive show window fronts in the city.

The modern touch that makes good design so effective has been applied throughout the interior of the building.

lital craftsmanship in material.

AN APPRECIATION

Heintzman and Company take this opportunity of expressing their sincere appreciation to THE DELL, THE NUT HOUSE, DIVING KLINE and JACK FORBESMAN, our business neighbors, for the kindness and patience shown to us during the extensive alterations . . . and for their forbearance during the inconvenience that was necessarily caused to these firms and their patrons.

Heintzman's Fix Any Instrument

Musical instruments of all types and makes are sold and repaired at Heintzman and Company Limited.

construction and finish is in evidence.

The latest innovations in heating and air-conditioning appliances have been installed.

None-smiting, of most recent design, communicates the crochets.

The lower and main floors feature blonde birch paneling and shagreened, with attractive freestone-lined square texture the walls, and acoustical tile ceilings.

The second floor has been finished in appealing pale yellow wood of the acacia tree, which is a member of the mahogany family, and which was imported from Africa.

While the entire premises reeks with special cheerfulness and remarkable attractiveness, the second floor piano and organ salons are the outstanding feature of the renovation.

This section is unique in design and finish, and is a showroom that any business would be proud of.

Spacious, modern-designed staircases lead to the upper and lower floors, at the establishment, and are located just to the right of the main entrance.

Heintzman Hall's renovation has definitely established the firm as one of the city's most attractive places of business.

Parley Postponed

VANCOUVER, June 16.—(CP)—The 1938 convention of the Child Constables of Canada, scheduled to open here July 1, has been postponed because of floods in British Columbia and forest fires in Ontario. It will be held here Sept. 1-5.

Father of Piano Is Company Founder

Theodore A. Heintzman is perhaps entitled to the name of father of the piano industry in Canada. Born in Berlin, Germany, on May 18, 1817, he started as a carpenter maker, learned keymaking with Buchholz and perfected himself as a piano maker under Grosse.

After travelling extensively on the continent of Europe, he landed in New York in 1850, where he found employment in light and Newton's factory.

Charles Steinway had his work bench in the same room with Heintzman and they became close friends.

In 1853 Heintzman went into business for himself, founding the Western Piano Company at 100 Adelaide, N.Y., which enterprise he lost to a bankrupt firm in 1857.

Three years later, in 1860, he migrated to Toronto and started a piano factory without any capital, and his instruments were as good as a high order that he posted purchasers for them quite easily.

The business grew steadily under his energetic management and ranks today among the leading industrial establishments in the Dominion.

Heintzman died on June 30, 1880, and the business was taken over by a corporation, in the management of which four sons of the piano founder take active part.

Beautiful HEINTZMAN HALL a proud achievement!
